ÉTER

éter • eter

[Chemistry]

Volatile liquid, flammable, with narcotic and hallucinogenic Effect.

[Ancient philophy]

Hypothetical fluid, with superior and metaphysical matrix, elastic and formless, considered to be the médium that filled the space between elements.

[For us]

Adaptable, with a free personality and no patterns.
Irreverent but delicate. A mixture of the tangible and the imaginary, created to be more felt than interpreted.
